I Barolo prodotti a Monforte d'Alba da Amalia Cascina in Langa continuano a ricevere consensi della critica nazionale ed internazionale.

Dopo la grande prova dimostrata dal Le Coste del millesimo 2010, molto gradito da pubblico e critica, arriva un risultato confortante che conferma un valore fondamentale per una azienda vitivinicola, quello della continuità qualitativa, anno dopo anno, delle etichette proposte.

E' la volta degli esperti di Wine Enthusiast che assicurano un punteggio molto alto, 91/100, al Barolo Le Coste di Monforte 2011 della famiglia Boffa, recensito sul Magazine dello scorso gennaio, al quale si aggiunge un apprezzamento anche più alto, 93/100, per il Barolo Amalia 2011; in quest'ultimo "si uniscono le forze" del vigneto di Nebbiolo in proprietà alla Bussia e di una parte di uve provenienti dal cru Le Coste.

Red berry, rose and anise aromas mingle in the glass. The firm palate is still closed, but offers raw red berry, menthol, sage and anisette. It's still rather primary but has the structure to evolve and develop complexity. Drink after 2019.

The screenshot shows the Wine Enthusiast website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for WINE & RATINGS, WINE BASICS, DRINKS, FOOD, TRAVEL, and SUBSCRIBE. The main content area features a red-bordered box containing the title "Amalia 2011 Le Coste di Monforte (Barolo)" and a large "91 POINTS" rating. Below this, there is a social media sharing section with icons for Facebook, Twitter, and Pinterest. A detailed description of the wine is provided: "Red berry, rose and anise aromas mingle in the glass. The firm palate is still closed, but offers raw red berry, menthol, sage and anisette. It's still rather primary but has the structure to evolve and develop complexity. Drink after 2019." To the right of the description is a "BUYING GUIDE" section with tabs for WINE, SPIRIT, and BEER, a search bar, and a "Search" button. A small illustration of a bunch of grapes is also visible.
